An Incentive to Live Near Work

Looking to Buy, Rent or Repair a Home?

"I liked the idea of having something close to work—not having a long drive to work and cultural activities. I'm close to the museums and sports events. I just bought Browns season tickets."

Alvin
Cleveland Clinic

"If you're working in the area, why wouldn't you want to live in the area?"

Jackie
Cleveland Museum of Art

"My husband Ben and I moved here from Baltimore, which is a very liveable city. We weren't ready for the suburbs and never being able to walk anywhere again. I love being able to walk to restaurants and not be dependent on driving. I walk to work as long as the weather permits."

Re-launched in Fall 2012, Greater Circle Living (GCL) welcomes more employees—and provides more money! It is a forgivable loan program created to encourage eligible employees of Greater University Circle institutions to live where they work. The program started in 2008 to help Greater University Circle employees purchase, rent or repair homes in Greater University Circle. GCL is made possible by Greater University Circle anchor institutions, local & national foundations, including the Cleveland Foundation.

Do You Want to Live Near Work?

“University Circle has so much to offer. When I walk to work, I look around at the beautiful historic buildings and it reminds me of Europe. When I need a loaf of bread, I can get fresh baked bread right in the neighborhood, rather than getting in my car for a loaf from the grocery store.”
